This workshop is for those involved in or supporting children's work in Quaker meetings and friends wishing to explore engaging with 0-3s and families.

The cost of the workshop is £5 per person payable on the day. All participants should bring a packed lunch.

The aims of the workshop are:

- To support and strengthen a view in the whole meeting of the youngest children, their parents and carers as central in the life of the meeting.
- To help participants reflect on the spiritual journeys of babies and toddlers, parents, carers and meetings.
- To inform participants about existing theory, practice and strategies for working with babies, toddlers, their parents and carers in meetings.
- To help participants decide on aims and objectives for work with 0-3s and their parents, linking action with practicalities.
- To enable participants to plan together, addressing practicalities and identifying next steps for work with 0-3s, their parents and carers.

By the end of the workshop participants will have:

- Identified what steps your meeting needs to take to encourage families to come to meeting and to be ready when they do.
- Considered and explored the particular needs of children aged 0 – 3, their parents and carers and identified steps for developing provision for this group.

Timing, booking information and venue:

The day starts with refreshments at 10.15am and ends at 4pm. We invite Friends to take part and ask that each person uses the booking form as places are limited. No places are available on the day without prior booking. We will confirm final details with you one week before the workshop. The workshop takes place at Bristol Central Meeting House; directions will be included in the final mailing.
