Many thanks to the Friends from Luton & Leighton Area Meeting who help to collate this mailing.

We suggest that some of the following items are read out as notices. Please pass enclosures to relevant members of your meeting or add to your noticeboard or newsletter where possible.

Governance

Governance Gold: Changes to Quaker faith & practice

1

Longer serving Clerks may recall that Governance Gold is a periodic enclosure giving advice on Quaker process and practice. After a break, here is another issue listing where Quaker faith & practice has changed since the publication of the fifth edition in 2013.

Michael Booth, Church Government Adviser, michaelsb@quaker.org.uk, 020 7663 1023

1. What have you learned from the process of reading Quaker faith & practice?

The Book of Discipline Revision Preparation Group invite feedback from all those who have been reading our current book – whether you have formed a group, read it alone, raced ahead or are taking it slowly. There is only one question: what have you learned from the process of reading Quaker faith & practice? Your comments will inform the process of discernment about whether it is time to revise our book of discipline, which Yearly Meeting will probably consider in 2018

Please complete the form at: www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/ReadingQfp or write to Michael Booth, Friends House, 173 Euston Road, London NW1 2BJ.

A

Circulate the link, especially to groups who are reading Qf&p.

Quaker employers

2. Quaker employers' resource

The Quaker employers' resource is available online. The resource offers advice and guidance to Quaker organisations that employ staff, whether the employment is: paid, self-employed, voluntary; with or without benefits (such as accommodation) in kind.

This resource is intended for area meeting trustees, local meeting employment/premises committee, and anyone in your meeting who is responsible for employment.

Oliver Waterhouse, oliverw@quaker.org.uk, 020 7663 1007

A

Please share with those responsible for employment.

Economics

3. Survey from North Wales Credit Union Group

The North Wales Credit Union Group, supported by Quaker Peace & Social Witness, would like you to fill in their survey.

Ask Friends to fill in the online survey. Leave the leaflet visible for Friends to see.

Sustainability

4. Take action on fracking at 'meeting for worship for witness' on Pendle Hill

2pm, 6 May, Pendle Hill, Lancashire

Pendle Hill Friends invite you to a 'meeting for worship for witness' on top of Pendle Hill to draw attention to the threat of potential local shale gas fracking. This follows a statement by Meeting for Sufferings in February calling for a ban on fracking to help urgently tackle our climate crisis. If you'd like to find out more about the event or want to attend, please contact Maya Williams (details below).

To find out more about fracking and other ways of taking action, visit www.quaker.org.uk/sustainability.

Please announce to Friends, and inform any individual or groups who may be interested.

Peace

5. Nuclear weapons ban treaty

Lobby of Parliament, 1 March

Multilateral negotiations for a new nuclear disarmament treaty begin in New York on 27 March. 134 countries will be taking part, and the UK is not one of them, despite 'multilateral disarmament' being government policy. We are being asked to write to our MPs and to the Foreign Secretary, sign a petition and attend a mass lobby of parliament on 1 March to urge our government to attend.

Announce in notices.

8. JYM nominations deadline reminder

Junior Yearly Meeting is an important event for young Quakers (14- to 17-year-olds). Information about JYM nominations was sent to area meeting clerks in the November monthly mailing. If you are aware of eligible young people from your meeting who might like to participate in JYM, speak to your Area Meeting Clerk.

The deadline for area meetings to make nominations is 15 March 2017.

Nominations information can be found at www.quaker.org.uk/events/junior-yearly-meeting-2017.

AMs only
Area meetings should submit nominations by 15 March 2017.
