You can apply for a Quaker Peace & Social Witness (QPSW) grant of £100–2000 to help you get started with your project or develop it fully.

Applications are now open.

In recent years QPSW grants have supported the creation of biodiverse garden spaces, anti-fracking witness, accommodation for destitute migrants, community workshops on low-carbon living, a play about the history of land rights and protest, and many other Quaker-led or Quaker-supported initiatives.

We'd love to fund your project this year!

- Please note, all applications need a minute of support from the relevant local or area meeting.
- The deadline for applications is 15 October 2018.
- Successful applicants will be informed by the end of December 2019, and will receive the money by the end of January 2019.
