CORGLA-2026

The Orphans' Education Project is supported by Quaker Africa Interest Group.

Thousands of orphaned children in the Democratic Republic of Congo often find themselves without assistance and access to education. For lack of family or other support; they have lost hope in the future. This project, will provide school tools and free education to 276 orphan students in the DRC, supporting them to overcome difficult circumstances to have access to a better future.

The original project started in 2022 and is currently supporting 124 children in primary and secondary education, as well as others at university schools. The QPSW Relief grant is supporting the second year of the children who received support from QSPW in 2025, giving them the opportunity to get involved in their education and chart a path for their future, reintegrating them into the education system and providing professional training to give them the skills for a professional life. The project aims to support them until they achieve their goals and become independent in their future life, providing learning materials, school fees and teacher salaries.
