

Join us in calling for an international loss and damage fund

Climate change isn't just in the future – floods, wildfires and drought are already destroying people's homes and livelihoods. This is known as 'loss and damage'.

Burning coal, oil and gas is by far the biggest cause of this destruction. Fossil fuel companies knew decades ago that their actions would have disastrous consequences for people and planet. Now they must pay for the damage.

We need an international loss and damage fund now.

As host of the major climate talks COP26 in November, the UK must listen to people from the countries most affected by climate breakdown – and they're calling for funding to deal with loss and damage. This must be paid for by the polluters who caused the crisis - for example through an international Climate Damages Tax on fossil fuel extraction.

Scan the QR code to sign our petition asking Boris Johnson to support an international loss and damage fund paid for by polluters:

Find out more:
www.makepolluterspay.co.uk

#MakePollutersPay
#TodayNotTomorrow

Join us in calling for an international loss and damage fund

Climate change isn't just in the future – floods, wildfires and drought are already destroying people's homes and livelihoods. This is known as 'loss and damage'.

Burning coal, oil and gas is by far the biggest cause of this destruction. Fossil fuel companies knew decades ago that their actions would have disastrous consequences for people and planet. Now they must pay for the damage.

We need an international loss and damage fund now.

As host of the major climate talks COP26 in November, the UK must listen to people from the countries most affected by climate breakdown – and they're calling for funding to deal with loss and damage. This must be paid for by the polluters who caused the crisis - for example through an international Climate Damages Tax on fossil fuel extraction.

Scan the QR code to sign our petition asking Boris Johnson to support an international loss and damage fund paid for by polluters:

Find out more:
www.makepolluterspay.co.uk

#MakePollutersPay
#TodayNotTomorrow