

Quakers and the Changing Face of Faith in Britain

What is happening to the nature of faith observance and participation in Britain?

How are new enquirers, attenders and members arriving at the Meeting House door? What is drawing them to us, what is encouraging and what is off-putting?

What new faith groups are emerging that Friends may want to link with?

The Quaker Committee for Christian and Interfaith Relations (QCCIR) has commissioned some research to look into these questions. The research is being undertaken by the Centre for Research in Quaker Studies at Woodbrooke. A crucial part of the project is to ask all those who have come to our Meetings in the last three years to undertake a short survey.

We are asking all Local Meeting and Area Meeting Clerks to distribute this link to the survey as widely as possible to members, attenders and enquirers by e-mail and through your regular notices.

All responses need to be in by July 24 so please act on this as soon as possible and encourage everyone to complete a survey by this date.
