

IN FOX'S FOOTSTEPS: PLANNING 1652 COUNTRY QUAKER PILGRIMAGES

Why come on a Quaker pilgrimage?

"If you are new to Quakerism, there can be no better place to begin to explore what it may mean for us than the place in which it began.

Go to the beautiful Meeting Houses one finds dotted throughout the Westmorland and Cumbrian countryside and spend time in them, soaking in the atmosphere of peace and calm, and you will feel refreshed. Worship with Quakers there and you may begin to feel changed by the experience.

What you will find is a place where people took the demands of faith seriously and were transformed by the experience. In letting themselves be changed, they helped make possible some of the great changes that happened to the world between the sixteenth and the eighteenth centuries."

Roy Stephenson, extracts from '1652 Country: a land steeped in our faith', The Friend, 8 October 2010.

Being part of an organised 'open' pilgrimage

Swarthmoor Hall organises two 5-day pilgrimages every year in June/July and August/September which are open to individuals, couples, or groups of Friends.

The pilgrimages visit most of the early Quaker sites and allow individuals to become part of an organised pilgrimage and worshipping group as the journey unfolds. A minibus is used to travel to the different sites. Each group has an experienced Pilgrimage Leader. These pilgrimages are full board in ensuite accommodation.

Planning your own pilgrimage

Many meetings and smaller groups choose to arrange their own pilgrimage with the support of the pilgrimage coordination provided by Swarthmoor Hall, on behalf of Britain Yearly Meeting. In doing so each group needs to consider a number of questions:

- How many people will be in our party?
- Who is the main organiser/contact person?
- What style of accommodation would work best for the needs of the group?
- Do we need catering?
- What is our budget?
- How many days can we spend doing the pilgrimage?
- Are there any particular sites or places we wish to include in the pilgrimage?
- Do we need transport?

For more detailed information regarding options please see page 4.

Venues

Swarthmoor Hall is the cradle of the Quaker movement, home of Margaret Fell and later George Fox. Early Friends met here to worship and they returned for hospitality and spiritual renewal. This tradition remains today.

It offers mostly ensuite accommodation for up to 26 people, in single, twin and double rooms. Accessible rooms are available. For more details please email for a room list using info@swarthmoorhall.co.uk or visit our website www.swarthmoorhall.co.uk.

Other venues for consideration:

Glenthorne Guest House and Conference Centre, Grasmere | www.glenthorne.org

Rookhow Quaker Meeting House, Grizedale | www.rookhowcentre.co.uk

Airton Friends Meeting House and Barn | www.airtonbarn.org.uk

Transport

Many of the roads which lead to the historic sites are narrow country lanes which can be difficult and tiring to navigate especially for Friends who are unfamiliar with the area. It may be worth considering a guide or driver for your pilgrimage. They are also able to estimate the average journey times to Quaker sites – often much longer than one might anticipate. Options include:

For small groups

- Self-drive – car or mini-bus
- Self-drive, with local Friend as tour guide at each venue (needs to be pre-booked)

For larger groups

- Mini-bus hire
- Coach hire – needs to be booked well in advance

Typical 1652 Country Pilgrimage itineraries

This table shows typical itineraries for 3-5 day Quaker Pilgrimages based at and organised by Swarthmoor Hall.

The itineraries assume that Friends will arrive on the first day in the late afternoon and leave after lunch on the final day of the pilgrimage.
